BIOGRAPHY:

Merridith O'Leary, R.S.

Certified ServSafe® instructor

Merridith has worked in Public Health since 2004 and has been teaching ServSafe for 15 years. Her teaching style is characterized as both creative and engaging as she instills the importance of food safety from an inspector's perspective during her classes. Merridith is currently working for the City of Northampton as Health Director but she has also spent many years in the field as an Environmental Health Sanitarian. Having the combination of skills as a field inspector and a licensed instructor makes for an excellent training opportunity for Health Department staff and Boards of Health
