

Microcredential Courses

ACUE offers short, microcredential courses in effective teaching practices for the classroom and online environments. Microcredential courses are offered in collaboration with institutional partners, as well as through open enrollment courses. Course participants may stack microcredentials to earn the ACUE Certificate in Effective College Instruction, endorsed by the American Council on Education (ACE). ACUE-credentialed faculty can return to complete microcredentials to earn an Advanced Certificate in Effective College Instruction.

Creating an Inclusive and Supportive [Online] Learning Environment

Effective Teaching Practices

- ▶ Leading the First Day of Class
- ▶ Promoting a Civil Learning Environment
- ▶ Engaging Underprepared Students
- ▶ Helping Students Persist in Their Studies
- ▶ Embracing Diversity in Your Classroom
- ▶ Checking for Student Understanding
- ▶ Providing Useful Feedback

Effective Online Teaching Practices

- ▶ Welcoming Students to Online Learning
- ▶ Promoting Civil Online Learning Environments
- ▶ Engaging Underprepared Students in Online Learning
- ▶ Helping Students Persist in Online Learning
- ▶ Embracing Diversity Online Learning
- ▶ Checking for Student Understanding in Online Learning
- ▶ Providing Useful Feedback for Online Learning

Promoting Active Learning [Online]

Effective Teaching Practices

- ▶ Developing Effective Class Sessions and Lectures
- ▶ Teaching Powerful Note-taking Skills
- ▶ Using Groups to Ensure Active Learning
- ▶ Using the Active Learning Cycle
- ▶ Planning Effective Class Discussions
- ▶ Facilitating Engaging Class Discussions

Effective Online Teaching Practices

- ▶ Developing Effective Modules and Microlectures
- ▶ Teaching Powerful Note-Taking Online
- ▶ Using Groups to Ensure Active Online Learning
- ▶ Using the Active Learning Cycle in Online Courses
- ▶ Planning Effective Online Discussions
- ▶ Facilitating Engaging Online Discussions

Inspiring Inquiry and Preparing Lifelong Learners [In Your Online Course]

Effective Teaching Practices

- ▶ Motivating Your Students
- ▶ Providing Clear Directions and Explanations
- ▶ Using Concept Maps and Other Visualization Tools
- ▶ Using Student Achievement and Feedback to Improve Your Teaching
- ▶ Using Advanced Questioning Techniques
- ▶ Developing Self-Directed Learners

Effective Online Teaching Practices

- ▶ Motivating Students Online
- ▶ Providing Clear Directions and Explanations in Online Courses
- ▶ Integrating Visualization Tools in Online Courses
- ▶ Using Data and Feedback to Improve Online Teaching
- ▶ Using Advanced Questioning in Online Courses
- ▶ Developing Self-Directed Online Learners

Designing Student-Centered Courses

Covers Classroom and Online Learning

- ▶ Establishing Powerful Learning Outcomes
- ▶ Aligning Assessments with Course Outcomes
- ▶ Aligning Activities and Assignments with Course Outcomes
- ▶ Developing Fair, Consistent, and Transparent Grading Practices
- ▶ Developing and Using Rubrics and Checklists
- ▶ Preparing an Effective Syllabus

