PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

BY BRADLEY L. EAST, M.S., P.E.

It's hard to believe that Summer is upon us! A new group of engineers is entering the workforce and students are out for break. The only thing missing is the sun. Here's to hoping we catch a break from the rain in the near future.

This month, we will be voting on our proposed slate of officers for the coming year, as shown below:

- President: Sam Shorter, PE
- President-Elect: Paul Hahn, PE
- Vice President-Programs: Tyler Dube, PE
- Secretary: Leanne Cantalupo, EIT
- Treasurer: Genest Landry, PE
- Treasurer-Elect: Augustine Verrengia, PE
- Communications Director: Austin Messerli, PE
- Section Director: Kat Lauer, EIT
- Younger Member Director: Kaylyn Hudson, PE
- Past President: Bradley East, PE

Keep in mind that ASCE-Austin Branch will not hold our monthly luncheons in July or August, as we will be on our summer break and working on officer transitions. But I am excited to announce that we are tentatively moving forward with hosting our September luncheon as an in-person event. To that end, we would like to get your thoughts on this. Feel free to send me an email and let me know how you feel, beast@polarisforensics.com. We will also be conducting a quick survey during our June luncheon to gauge peoples comfort level with this.

Lastly, now is a great time to get involved! We are currently looking for committee chairs and members. If you've been wanting to contribute in any way to help make our branch the success that it is, please contact me (512-971-3911, beast@polarisforensics.com) or another officer or committee member. Thank you for everything you do to support ASCE!

Follow us on Facebook, Linked In and Instagram for event recaps, upcoming events, relevant news, and updates. I hope you all have a fantastic summer!

Bradley L. East, M.S., P.E.

THE FAMOUS DRISKILL HOTEL

BY ASMITA RAUT

As a history and heritage committee, we always feel proud to present Austin's most iconic structures. In this newsletter, we are presenting historic landmark of Texas, famous for its hospitality: The Driskill hotel, located in the heart of downtown Austin, on the corner of 6th Street and Brazos Street.

In general, the Driskill is one of the best-known premier luxurious and one of the oldest operating hotels in Austin. It is also famous for most haunted hotels in the United States, featuring variety of supernatural activities including the spirit of Colonel Driskill himself.

The hotel was listed in the National Register of Historic Places on November 25, 1969.

The Driskill is composed of two interconnected buildings; the original four-story Romanesque Revival building constructed in 1886, and a 13-story annex constructed in 1930. The original building, designed by local Austin architect Jasper N. Preston, was constructed with over six million pressed bricks and white limestone accents. The building contains two porticos (entryway patios with roof) on the southern and eastern facades, which contain large Richardsonian-style arches that were reputed to be the largest in Texas. The facade contains three limestone busts of Driskill and his sons; J.W. "Bud" Driskill facing Brazos Street, A. W. "Tobe" Driskill facing an alley on the west side, and Jesse Driskill facing Sixth Street, whose bust is surrounded by decorative carvings including longhorns on the gable ends.

A few notable events happened in the Driskill:

- ▶ In 1908, the Daughters of the Republic of Texas met at the Driskill hotel to discuss the fate of the Alamo Mission in San Antonio. At the meeting, a divide between two factions of the group erupted over whether to demolish or preserve the structure.
- ▶ On October 12, 1931, Louis Armstrong opened a three-day performance at the Driskill Hotel. In attendance was Charles Black, a freshman at University of Texas at Austin at the time, who cited the performance as inspiration for his interest in race and civil rights.
- ▶ In 1934, future President Lyndon Johnson met his future wife, Claudia Taylor, for their first date at the Driskill dining room. It became his campaign headquarters during his congressional career, especially during his famous 1948 Senate race, and became a favorite place on return trips to Austin during his presidency. He watched the results of the 1964 Presidential Election from its presidential suite and addressed supporters from its ballroom after his victory.
- ▶ President Bill Clinton stayed in the 4-room Cattle Baron's suite when he visited Austin in 1999.
- ▶ On September 11, 2001, Jenna Bush, daughter of President George W. Bush, was relocated to the hotel by the Secret Service in the wake of the terrorist attacks earlier that day.

On March 17, 2018, actor Bill Murray and cellist Jan Vogler recited the poem "Dog" by Lawrence Ferlinghetti from the front steps of the Driskill Hotel to promote the film Isle of Dogs during the 2018 South by Southwest festival.

This past year has been full of challenges. At SEI we've learned to provide our services virtually as we work to advance and serve the Structural Engineering profession. We'll now take a break for the Summer and begin again when the students return. In the meantime, below you'll find information on our Professional Meetings, Structural Engineering Talks (SET) and on-line resources to help you stay connected throughout the Summer.

PROFESSIONAL MEETING

SEI offers Professional Meetings every other month, September through May. It's been our practice to take July off and start in again when students return for the Fall semester. These meetings feature a presentation on some current projects, research, or developments in the Structural Engineering profession.

This past year was full of fascinating topics offered virtually. Included were Dr. Cameron Murray, Ph.D. from University of Arkansas discussing the advantages of using Belitic Calcium Sulfoaluminate (BCSA) cement in precast concrete; Nick Graziani, PE from Watson Bowman Acme presenting the evolution of and current innovations in bridge expansion joints; Mark Waggoner of Walter P Moore previewing the Q2 Stadium, home of the Austin FC MLS club; and Dr. Petros Sideris, Ph.D. from Texas A&M University presenting his research on innovative Hybrid Sliding-Rocking (HSR) bridge columns that move like human limbs to absorb seismic effects. It was an interesting year and offered a good way to keep up with your PDHs while working remotely.

Stay informed for next Fall through the SEI e-blast or by going to the following website: <https://www.austinasce.org/>.

STRUCTURAL ENGINEERING TALKS (SET) 2021

Planning continues for SET. As Texas continues to open up and get back to in-person activities, we are watching what the experts are saying and our membership's comfort level for the right time to hold SET in person. Currently we are considering holding it either in late Fall '21 or Spring '22. Until then you'll find links to past SET presentation as well as updates at <https://www.austinasce.org/sei/set>
