Dear Friends of Safehope,

Safehope provides support services to survivors and their families who have experienced domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking or mass violence. Safehope advocates helped more than 949 survivors in Harvey, McPherson and Marion counties this past fiscal year. We have illustrated several statistics and services provided as an agency during that time.

The agency kept going while the pandemic slowed down the world in so many ways. Operations looked a little different as we learned to find our way through the system changes and new safety concerns for survivors. Fleeing from violence or abuse and seeking safe shelter had new challenges for families as they managed the work from home routines or remote school schedules for their children. Your support and backing has enabled services to continue successfully for the survivors.

Safehope will continue seeking expansion and improvement of the Crisis Shelter. The agency is expecting federal support to remodel part of the current administrative offices into new crisis shelter units. While these funds will be a positive step in covering part of the expenses, your support will be vital for the renovation success.

With your support and donations needed more than ever, Safehope will continue the essential services for men, women and children affected by domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking or mass violence.

Holiday Blessings,
