PRAYER AND PRAISE

- Pray for Jack Stout as he is having his salivary gland and possibly 3 lymph nodes removed from his neck on Friday. He and Adrienne, his wife, would greatly appreciate our prayers
- Bitsy Counts is very weak after her colon surgery and pneumonia in both lungs. Please pray for a return of her appetite and that the Lord would strengthen her body.
- Brandi Deets, the daughter of Tom and Becky Fuduric, who had breast cancer surgery last week, is at home and recovering well. Please continue to pray for her complete recovery.
- Jena Ford will have surgery on her throat today. She is a singer, so this is a sensitive operation for her. Please pray for the Lord's guidance to her surgeon and for peace to Jena and her husband Patrick.
- Continue to pray for Dianne Fossett, Roz Cross, and Steve Cloy as they continue treatment for cancer.
- Evan Brown asks for continue prayers for their new twins: continuing growth and development for Alex as he is doing well and for Everett as he is on a good bit of support because of an infection.
- Pray for Renato and Fay Moncini as Renato's health is declining, primarily as a result of long-term heart issues.
- VBS and Exploration Camp are continuing through the end of this week. Pray for the Lord to use the gospel as it is presented in many ways to the children and youth involved.

ENGAGING THE WORLD REQUESTS

FOCUS: Aaron & Amy Speitelsbach, NTM – Freetown, Liberia, West Africa

Aaron and Amy are living at a tribal location among the Glarro people of Liberia. They finished learning the language and are now teaching literacy (Amy) and developing bible lessons (Aaron) which they hope to teach soon. They are also helping their coworker who is translating the Bible. Please pray for Aaron as he continues to work on Bible lessons – that the lessons will make sense to the people and the language will be clear and understandable. Please also pray for that Amy's literacy students will stick with their work and will continue to come faithfully and make progress.
